Thank you for your cooperation.

Millbrook Deer Harvest

Millbrook's Bylaw and Consultation departments will be coordinating a deer harvest this month to help address the overpopulation of deer in Truro and surrounding area. The harvest would take place near the Millbrook reserve boundary, where William Barnhill Drive and Industrial Ave. intersect.

- Safety and efficiency will be paramount.
- We are looking for experienced crossbow shooters to participate in our community-led harvest.
- We are starting in early November.
- Deer Harvested will be processed and be communally shared starting with Seniors.

If you are interested email Consultation@MillbrookBand.com or call (902) 809-1309.

Millbrook's Newsletter Deadline - Monday, November 21st, 2022

The deadline is the 20th of each month.

Send your content to: communications@millbrookband.com,

Be sure to include ALL relevant information (including the who, what, when, where, why and how to find out more) and be sure to submit it in advance of the event date (the earlier you share the better).

Please ensure its in an editable format.

Housing Policy

Community Meetings - Draft Housing Policy

The Millbrook Housing Department has been holding community meetings to review and discuss the draft Housing Policy. Please review the posted Housing draft policy, it is located on the Millbrook First Nation website, Millbrook First Nation (millbrookband.com). If you have any input, and you were unable to attend any of the community meetings, please contact Chantel Langille, Housing Project Officer at clangille@millbrookfn.ca

Housing Repairs Announcement

Please be advised that any housing repairs must be approved by the Housing Department before any work is started, if you wish to receive reimbursement.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact us by phone or email.

Heat Pump Cleaning

Please contact Eshaan at EcoLogic Heat Pump Solutions Ltd for a deep heat pump cleaning. Eshaan can be contacted by phone at 902-957-0661 to schedule an appointment, at no cost to the Millbrook First Nation home owner.

Home Insurance

Millbrook First Nation’s insurance covers the structural costs of CMHC houses and band-owned homes on reserve. Please note that the contents inside the homes, including the appliances, are not insured by the First Nation. It is important to protect your belonging and one way to do that is to consider purchasing home insurance for the contents of your home. This became apparent after the recent flooding of basements that occurred in Millbrook’s communities last month. If Millbrook members are interested in home contents insurance, they will be responsible and it will not be covered by the First Nation. Questions? Please reach out to Millbrook’s housing department.

Housing Inspections

The Housing Department has been working collaboratively with other organizations and government agencies with the hopes of obtaining funding for housing repairs. In order to be eligible for the housing repairs, housing inspections will be mandatory for the funding.

Those who contact the Housing Department to be added to the list will be first priority, but it’s mandatory for all houses to be inspected. Anyone who doesn’t answer the door for their scheduled appointment will be dropped down to the end of the list.

Please contact Krista Paul at kpaul@millbrookfn.ca or by phone at 902-890-2518 to be added to the housing inspection list, if you need to reschedule your appointment or if you have any questions.

Millbrook R.E.C.C. Family Skate - Sunday Mornings

Sunday morning ice times at the R.E.C.C. starts at 8-9 am, November 6, 13, 20, & 27.

Millbrook’s Security Services

Millbrook’s security team is responsible for keeping Millbrook’s community safe and secure. They work around the clock and are on call 24 hours a day. Their duties include patrolling the neighbourhoods of Millbrook and Cole Harbour because having a physical presence in the community is a deterrent for minor damage or other unsavoury activities. They are trained to identify unusual activity and pay attention to detail to reduce risks to the community. In addition, they observe and report suspicious activity that may be criminal.

If a community member is in danger or witnesses criminal activity, it is important that they call 911 or the local Millbrook or Cole Harbour, Sheet Harbour detachment of the RCMP. Please note that the security team cannot report incidents on your behalf.

Millbrook First Nation Takes a Journey With Mi'kmaq Food and Tradition

CULTURAL FOOD SHOWCASE WALKING TOUR FIRST OF ITS KIND ORGANIZED BY HEALTH CENTRE TO SHARE KNOWLEDGE, HIGHLIGHT TIES TO THE LAND

- By Chelsey Gould

MILLBROOK, N.S. — A recent cultural showcase tour in Millbrook First Nation brought people on a knowledge-sharing journey of celebrating tradition with comforting Mi'kmaq food along the way.

The gathering on Oct. 18 was for community members and invited guests of all ages, including students of the Nova Scotia International Student program. To open, the Iron Tide drum group performed with dancers Patience Sylliboy and Tehya Milliea, and elder Patsy Paul-Martin gave a prayer in the Mi'kmaq language and then English. Hearty prepared food of cultural and nutritional significance was shared at each stop of the walking tour.

Tehya, who is 17 and wants to become a journalist to share Indigenous stories, said she always loves listening to Gerald Gloade. The artist and cultural educator shared the Muin (bear) and the seven bird hunters story, represented by stars in the night sky, and how it relates to harvesting and hunting seasons throughout the Mi'kmaw moons.

"I want to acquire as much knowledge as I can as I get older," said Tehya. "I don't feel comfortable teaching too much right now. I feel like I have so much more to learn. But in the future, I hope to teach people like they do."

While filleting a fish from her home community of Listuguj Mi'gmaq First Nation, Cheyenne Issac-Gloade talked about the hard work it takes to fish, including setting nets and being out early on the water. She loved growing up with her grandfather's salmon soup – which contained a big head – and she helped her family with fishing as young as she could.

In 1981, 500 provincial police and fishery officers opposed to their fishing raided her community despite it being their inherent right.

"We stood up to the government for those treaty rights that are so important," said Issac-

Gloade. "(Mi'kmaq people) still fight today, a very similar sort of fishing wars down in Digby ... so I'm really proud to be from that community."

The tour also showcased the powwow grounds and Woodchip Trail, which are of historical significance to Millbrook. Traditionally, many community members grew up hunting in those woods. Millbrook youth support worker Colin Bernard said that they are inviting people to share their opinions about the future of the trail as they further develop and make it more accessible. The 2023 North American Indigenous Games, happening in Halifax, will be holding its archery event there in Millbrook.

"They looked at our trail, they thought it was beautiful and ideal for an archery competition," said Bernard. "And it's the first time in NAIG history that they're going to be able to shoot a target and allow family members across North America to see their child actually shoot a target (and) have it livestreamed."

At the showcase, Garrett Gloade showed how to set a rabbit snare.

"I've had family members who are hunters who are trappers, fishermen and so on, but they never really decided to teach me," said Garrett. "So throughout COVID it weighed heavily on the mental health of individuals. And especially me as a powwow singer, the one thing that I was able to connect to culturally was gone, with not being able to gather."

That led to the founding of a men's mental health group in Millbrook, which found commonality in that loss of knowledge and banded together to learn fishing and hunting like their ancestors did. When Garrett caught his very first rabbit, it was fresh and still warm when they gave it to Jane Abram, an elder in Millbrook.

Also showcased was the traditional game of Waltes, with Millbrook's very own Waltes champions Tammy Bernard and Priscilla Martin. Previously oppressed by white settlers, it has made a fierce comeback in recent years and is part of the Nova Scotia Mi'kmaw Summer Games. It involves bringing down a bowl, made from a tree burl, with enough force to flip flat-shaped dice made from moose bone. There are three sticks representing old women who are fighting over a man, represented by another stick, and 51 additional counting sticks. Later on, sticks end up in a player's hair as points are scored. The game can go on for hours, said Bernard, who learned from her grandmother at the age of six.

Tehya said that she loved how well-spoken everyone was and that she has great respect for the elders present.

"Elders, they're the keepers of knowledge and how our culture survives," said Tehya. "And listening to them speak and learning their teachings is how to carry on our culture and how to keep on sharing it with other people."

Tehya's mother, Corrina Milliea, was inspired by the Benjamin Bridge winery's annual Beyond Terroir event honouring Mi'kmaq people and Glooscap First Nation with food and teachings. The inaugural event was organized by the Millbrook Health Centre staff in conjunction with community partners. They hope to bring it back during next year's Mi'kmaq History Month.

Several community members helped prepare and donate food:

- 🍷 Smoked salmon on a rice cracker, salmon on rice and lettuce and grilled lemon and pepper salmon by Jean Abram
- 🍷 Butternut squash by Sunshine Bernard
- 🍷 Four cents (fry bread) by Corrina Milliea
- 🍷 Moose stew with dumplings by Donna Gloade
- 🍷 Blueberry turnovers from Brookfield Bakery
- 🍷 Donations of salmon from Listuguj Mi'kmaq First Nation and Millbrook Fisheries and moose meat, salmon and deer from Stephen Marshall Jr. and Dana Sylliboy

Indigenous Pre-Cadet Training Program

Throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, our paramount concern has been for the health and safety of our IPTP Candidates and those attending the academy as we continue to implement best practices in collaboration with provincial and federal health authorities.

The Indigenous Pre-Cadet Training Program (IPTP) offers Canadian Indigenous people, between the ages of 19 and 29, an opportunity to experience a modified three-week Depot training experience within the RCMP at the RCMP Training Academy in Regina, Saskatchewan.

"It gives Indigenous youth the opportunity to experience a training session and a first-hand view of what a possible career in police work could entail," says Cpl. Maureen Greyeyes-Brant, who was a graduate of the program and is now the National Coordinator.

You'll learn:

- › An introduction to the Criminal Code and RCMP policy
- › Physical fitness and drill
- › Skills to help prepare you to apply to be a police officer

Basic Requirements

- › Be between 19 - 29 years of age
- › Be of First Nation, Inuit or Métis descent
- › Be a Canadian citizen
- › Be able to pass an enhanced reliability security check
- › Be in good physical condition
- › Possess a Canadian high school diploma or equivalent

Now accepting applications for the 2023 spring session!

Deadline: December 9, 2022

RE: Food Bank

Hello everyone! The Wekope'kwitk Mijijeweyuo'kuom Society “end of the rushing waters house of food “ known as Millbrook food bank is officially registered and almost ready to transition to our temporary location TBA .

Many thanks to Millbrook Chief and Council for your support.

Disclaimer “ The food bank is independent from the administration of the band, though we network closely with various members of Council we are not employed by the band

We have a governing board of directors and registered as a society recognized by the Province of NS.

Many thanks to Curtis Michael and Garret Gloade for our traditional naming.

Being a registered society, we will be networking closely with various agencies and organizations to bring our community on and off reserve a service that is Inu community minded with a focus on programs and projects that will help with food security and reconnecting our community through traditional beliefs and practices. We believe everyone plays a role in community wellness and well-being. We believe in treating our families with dignity and respect.

We thank our loyal sponsors who have been with us since day one as we continue this journey together. Continued community support is greatly needed and appreciated.

We started our food bank with a vision of what our ancestors used to practice and in honor of the many great compassionate women from our community who have passed, we wanted to follow their lead as being an organization that strives for giving with dignity and respect. No one should go hungry, no one should ever feel ashamed to need a hand up! We are a community, and it takes a community to help each other.

We have a face book page Wekope'kwitk Mijijeweyuo'kuom Society Millbrook food bank where we post updates on all our activities and a message system is there to inbox us. This is moderated by the food bank team.
